

Heatmap visualization of the  $imp2$  metric for various elements. The color scale ranges from blue (low) to white (high). The elements are ordered by increasing  $imp2$  value, with the highest values (white) concentrated in the d-block elements, particularly in the first two rows (Scandium to Nickel) and the last two rows (Copper to Zinc).

